

LOCH LOMOND

SINGLE MALT SCOTCH WHISKY

AGED 54 YEARS

“ ONE OF THE OLDEST AND
RAREST LOCH LOMOND
SINGLE MALTS EVER RELEASED
AND JUST 55 BOTTLES OF
THIS LIMITED EDITION HAVE BEEN PRODUCED. ”

“
 It takes a very special cask of whisky to make it to 54 years old. Starting with new make spirit and casks of the highest quality, this whisky has been nurtured by each Master Blender and passed into the careful custodianship of Michael Henry. The character of this Loch Lomond single malt has reached perfection 54 years on from its original distillation in 1967 and is ready for select individuals to enjoy a rare piece of distilling history.”

As the only distillery in Scotland to use straight-neck stills, Loch Lomond Whiskies is truly unique in its craftsmanship, using innovative techniques to explore flavour in a distinctive way.

{54} YEARS OLD

AN EXCEPTIONALLY RARE SINGLE MALT

Distilled in 1967, just one year after the distillery's iconic straight neck stills began production in 1966, Loch Lomond 54 Years Old Single Malt Whisky has been expertly crafted from unpeated malted barley and collected at high strength. Originally matured in a refill American Oak hogshead before being recasked into a refill European oak sherry hogshead in 1994.

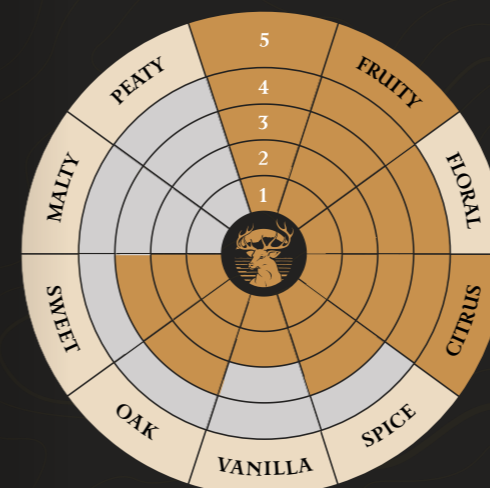

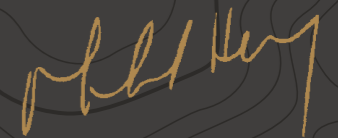

The gentle maturation over 54 years has created a whisky of refined richness and exceptional character that has allowed the elegance and quality of the Loch Lomond style to come to the fore. Notes of crème caramel, fresh vanilla pods, melted brown sugar and toasted oak, orange peel and marmalade on the nose, give way to vibrant fruit, tart pineapple and lemon citrus with a honey and dried fruit sweetness on the palate, creating a smooth silk-like mouthfeel.

The finish is sublime and compliments the flavour with long mouth-watering green fruit and floral notes, kiwi and elderflower then waves of warming oak spice, aniseed and cinnamon. Non chill-filtered and natural in colour just as nature intended, Loch Lomond 54 Years Old has been nurtured by each Master Blender over the decades and passed into the careful custodianship of Michael Henry.

AS A MASTER BLENDER IT IS A PRIVILEGE TO WORK WITH A WHISKY SO RARE. THE 54 YEAR OLD HAD BEEN MATURING FOR OVER 40 YEARS BEFORE I JOINED AS MASTER BLENDER. THE EXPECTATIONS ARE HIGH WHEN YOU ARE WORKING WITH LIQUID AS SPECIAL AND SCARCE AS THIS. IT WAS A HUGE UNDERTAKING AND CAME WITH GREAT RESPONSIBILITY. SELECTING AND PERFECTING THIS SINGLE MALT WAS A TRUE HONOUR.

MICHAEL HENRY
 Master Blender

DISTILLATION

100% Straight neck still collected at high strength from unpeated malted barley AYS 19/11/1967.

MATURATION

Original cask was a refill American oak hogshead recasked into refill sherry European oak hogshead in 1994.

NOSE

Elegant and sublime. Crème caramel, fresh vanilla pods, melted brown sugar and toasted oak, orange peel and marmalade.

PALATE

Silk-like mouthfeel. Vibrant fruit, tart pineapple and lemon citrus with a honey sweetness, dried fruits, sultanas and raisins.

FINISH

Long with mouth-watering green fruit and floral notes, kiwi and elderflower then waves of warming oak spice, aniseed and cinnamon.

THE LOCH LOMOND
54 YEAR OLD

Inspired by our hills and our stills.